1. Introduction

- 1.1 On 1st April 2023, a new unitary Westmorland and Furness Council was created covering the former Barrow, Eden and South Lakeland districts. The rest of the former county of Cumbria is now the new Cumberland council. Westmorland and Furness is the local (and minerals and waste planning) authority for parts of the District outside the Lake District and Yorkshire Dales National Parks.
- 1.2 Local plans contain the policies for the development and use of land and buildings which the Council uses to determine planning applications. They also set out the strategic vision for the area, explain how development and infrastructure needs will be met and protect environmental assets.
- 1.3 Policies in local plans are essential to deliver the priorities of the Westmorland and Furness Council Plan, including delivering all types of housing including market housing, affordable housing and housing for specific needs, enabling economic growth, sustaining local communities and ensuring that development mitigates and is resilient to the impacts of Climate Change.
- 1.4 Westmorland and Furness Council is responsible for preparing a new local plan for the whole District which will supersede existing legacy District and County planning policy documents. Until the new plan is adopted, the existing legacy plans and policies of the former authorities will form the planning policy framework for Westmorland and Furness. Plans and policies will continue to apply to the areas they applied to before re-organisation.<sup>1</sup> This means that until a new plan is prepared and adopted, different plans and planning policies will apply in different parts of the District, as is currently the case with National Parks.
- 1.5 This Consolidated Planning Policy Framework brings these documents together. It will be maintained as and when new planning policy documents are adopted by the Council.

<sup>1</sup> As set out in The Local Government (Structural Changes) (Transitional Arrangements) (No.2) Regulations 2008 amended by The Local Government (Structural Changes) (General) (Amendment) Regulations 2018:

19.—(1) A local development document adopted by a predecessor council under section 23 of the 2004 Act (adoption of local development documents) before the reorganisation date shall have effect on and after that date as if it had been adopted by that council's related planning successor for such part of its area as corresponds to the area to which the document relates.

2. The Development Plan Context

- 2.1 All Local Planning Authorities are required to produce a Development Plan (more commonly known as a Local Plan) which identifies a strategic vision and framework for sustainable development within their area. A Development Plan consists of planning policies relating to a variety of land uses (e.g. housing, employment, retail, minerals and waste) which seek to guide development to the most appropriate locations and to provide protection from development where necessary (e.g. for environmental safeguarding).
- 2.2 In accordance with Section 38 of the Planning and Compulsory Act 2004, a Development Plan covers a period of at least 15 years and will be used as the starting point by Local Planning Authorities to determine planning applications and, where relevant, in conjunction with relevant national planning policies and other relevant material planning considerations.
- 2.3 When preparing a Development Plan, the Local Planning Authority is required to engage stakeholders, consultees and members of the public in various stages of consultation to ensure that the development of policies occurs in a transparent manner and provides the opportunity for all forms of evidence to be considered. Once a final version of a Development Plan has been completed, it is submitted to the Planning Inspectorate for independent Examination prior to the adoption of the Plan.
- 2.4 In 2011, Neighbourhood Planning was introduced through the Localism Act. Neighbourhood Plans are documents containing planning policies for a designated area which are written by local communities rather than the Local Planning Authority. Any Neighbourhood Plan must support the strategic development for the area, as set out in the relevant Development Plan.
- 2.5 There is no statutory requirement for communities to write a Neighbourhood Plan but in those areas for which a Neighbourhood Plan has been 'made', they form part of the Development Plan.
- 2.6 Whilst not forming part of the statutory development plan, local authorities will prepare a wider range of local development documents that perform various roles such as: Supplementary Planning Documents (SPDs) which provide more detailed advice or guidance on adopted policies and are material consideration in decision-making; Statements of Community Involvement which set out the protocols for engaging with communities in preparing Development Plan Documents and in determining planning applications; and Conservation Area Appraisal and Management Plans that are specifically material to help inform decisions affecting Conservation Areas.

3. Consolidated Planning Policy Framework for Westmorland and Furness

3.1 Westmorland and Furness Council will soon begin the process of preparing a Local Plan for the new authority area. However, given the length of time involved in preparing the documents, the Development Plans from the previous Local Planning Authorities (Barrow, Eden and South Lakeland District Councils and Cumbria County Council) will form the Consolidated Planning Policy Framework until such time as the new Westmorland and Furness Local Plan is adopted. For the purposes of decision making, those documents listed in Schedules A and B can only be applied to the former administrative areas; for example policies contained within the adopted Eden Local Plan will not be applied to proposals received within the former Barrow Borough Council area.

3.2 The Consolidated Planning Policy Framework (see Appendix B) consists of:

- Section A – Schedule of Documents which form the Statutory Development Plan for Westmorland and Furness
  - Schedule of Adopted Statutory Development Plan Documents (Table 1)
  - Schedule of Emerging Development Plan Documents (Table 1a)
  - Schedule of Made Neighbourhood Plans (Table 2)
  - Schedule of Emerging Neighbourhood Plans (Table 2a)
- Section B – Schedule of Planning Policy Documents which do not form the Statutory Development Plan for Westmorland and Furness
  - Schedule of Supplementary Planning Documents (Table 3)
  - Schedule of Statement of Community Involvement documents (Table 4)
  - Schedule of Conservation Area Appraisals and Management Plans (Table 5)
  - Schedule of AONB Management Plans (CRoW Act 2000) and associated guidance (which have been endorsed by the predecessor Councils) (Table 6)
  - Schedule of Supplementary Planning Guidance, Informal Policy/Guidance and Policy support documents (Table 7)

Spatial Theme Definitions

The table below provides indicative examples of policy considerations; these have been grouped into spatial themes which are relevant to the area of Westmorland and Furness. This is a non-exhaustive list and other policy areas may be included within future Development Plans and other Planning Policy documents.

These policy considerations have been used to assess the planning policy documents included within the Tables in Appendix B to broadly identify which areas of planning the documents relate to.

Table 2a: Schedule of Emerging Neighbourhood Plans

Paragraph 48 of the National Planning Policy Framework sets out that weight may be given to relevant policies in emerging plans in decision taking<sup>6</sup>. From Regulation 14 stage neighbourhood plans are afforded only limited weight until after they are submitted (Regulation 16) and only given full weight after a positive referendum result.

At the time of writing, the following Neighbourhood Plan Documents are in preparation.

Table 3: Schedule of Supplementary Planning Documents

<sup>6</sup> Local planning authorities may give weight to relevant policies in emerging plans according to:

- a) the stage of preparation of the emerging plan (the more advanced its preparation, the greater the weight that may be given);
- b) the extent to which there are unresolved objections to relevant policies (the less significant the unresolved objections, the greater the weight that may be given); and
- c) the degree of consistency of the relevant policies in the emerging plan to this Framework (the closer the policies in the emerging plan to the policies in the Framework, the greater the weight that may be given).
